

MIDEaaS

Mobile IDE as a Service

MIDEaaS is a collaborative effort to create a mobile cloud based IDE for creating cross-platform services.

MIDEaaS enables developers to build software easily without standalone software, installation or additional components.

MIDEaaS contains software engineering tools such as visual user interface designer, advanced code editor, test integration, version management, and single click deployment.

